THE MEETING LAST NIGHT.-By eight o'clook last night Sarepta Hall was packed to overflowing, with a most enthusiastic crowd of democratic voters to listen to the address of Col. Honry E. Peyton, of Loudoun, who had been sanounced to speak. The meeting was called to order by Judge Charles E. Stuart, president of the Central Hancock and English Club, under whose auspices the meeting was held. In a short appropriate speech, Judge Stuart intro-duced Colonel Peyton, who for over an hour delighted his audience. He reviewed the re-cords of the two candidates, and declared that as a Confederate soldier he was proud to follow in the train of Winfield Scott Hancock, the soldier statesman. In conclusion the speaker said that he did not intend to say one word shout the State debt for he was confident that Virginia, who had never proved false in the past, would be found this time true to her roend, and give at least 40,000 majority for the regular democratic ticket. The speech of Colonel Peyton, which was an able production, was loudly applauded.

Mr. John S. Barbour, the democratic candidate for Congress, was next introduced. This gentlemen was received with loud and prolonged cheering, showing that he is as popular in Alexandria as he is in other portions of the district. He made a plain, straight forward, business like speech, which proved that Mr. Barbour is the very man this city and district needs in Congress. He said that he had been presented to the people, without any solicitation on his part, as the standard bearer of the democratic party in the eighth district, and he cinimed and knew he would receive the support of all true democrats. Mr. B. then spoke of the best way to build up a city like Alexandria, and said that there had been something said in regard to discrimination against Alexandria by the road of which he was the head. He had always told the merchants of this city that it there was anything in the tariff sheets detri-mental to them and the interests of Alexandria all they had to do was to call his attention to the fact, and it would be corrected. It had been charged that he had no sympathy with the people. Of course the life that he led separated him from the people; his home was on the read, and it was true he did not know as many people as he would like to, but those who know him know well that he always took an active part is all movements look ing to the advancement of the material interests of Alexandrie; he know that the grain tride had sought other markets, and that manufactures were what Alexandria seeded, so that abor could find profitable employment. He had never failed to contribute to the presperity of Alexandria, and he always shood prepared to do so whenever an opportunity presented itself. He was an Alexandrian, a Virginian, as much paeres ed in the weifare of the old as any man and desired to i jure them why did he keep the shops of the Virginia Midland reilroad bere when it wis in his power to remove them. He had been contact with being a Bourbon denicorat; it was false. He did tot believe to the dead past; he wanted to see Virginia shake off her fetbarry, and spring forth with renewed vigor, and if it was the pleasure of the propie to erad him to Congress all Lig efforts would be directed to the accomplishment of that end. was true that temporarily he resided in Washington; he went there during the winter because he keew that to keep up with the times e must be to close communication with the business men of all parts of the country who came to that city during the winter season, but he was a Virginian by birth, education, and as sociations; all his interests were here, if he was not a Virginian he did not know what pationally he beloaged to. Mr. Barbour's manly specca which it was reorised. Mr. Linden Kent being land'y called for that gentlemen came ferward and introduced Mr. Shepherd Bareley, et St. Lenis, who delivered so elequent, telling speech, which was loudly applauded throughout and oreated great ca-traduced a most favorable impression, as at-timsicsm. In response to loud and continued oills, S. C. Neale, erq., came forward and was greated with cheers long and load. Hs made a short, ringing speich, in which he urged his friends to stand by the regular democratic electoral ticket, and vote for John S. Barbour, for Congress, a man who was in every way worthy of their cin-fidence and support. Mr. Neale was followed by Commonwealth's Attorney, S. G. Brent, and Lindon Kent, erq., both of whom delivered obsering, elequent specehes, after which the meeting at 11 o'clock adjourced.

Prof. Clarkson's Cornet Band discoursed music during the evening.

THE UNION PRESBYTERIAN CHUCH -The session of the Union Presbyterian Courch met 148 night at the residence of Mr. Wm. II. Me Knight, with Mr. Rotert Bell in the chair, and Mr. Wm. II. Lombert secretary.

The proposition of the First Presbyterian Church inviting the members of the Union Church to unite with that church and form one church under the title of the first named organzation in connection with the Northern General Assembly, was respectfully, but positively declined on the ground that the Union Church was connected with the Southern Assembly, and the members did not wish to sever that concection.

A communication from the paster and the deaces of the First Baptist Church, inviting the members of the Union Church to cecupy their building until they could make other ar taugements was road, and accepted for Thursday right, the 4th of November, when a meet ing of the congregation of the "homeless church" will be held, and some plan settled upon for the continued existence of the organ-

ELECTION NEWS .- The Western Union Teletraph Co. have perfected arrangements for obtaining and forwarding complete election re turns Tuesday night next, from and to every telegraphic point in the whole country. By this means our citizens will be enabled to re caive reliable information on the very night of steller, giving not only the vote of Virgicia, but also the general result in every state in the Union. This includes some 13,000 offices, and while furnishing the country with the news, will exhibit the completeness and wonderful cameiny of the campacy's system.

THE OLD DOMINION BOAT CLUB,-A large number of the lady friends of the Old Dominion Bat Club met at the armory of the Alexaseria Light Infantry lest night, and arranged to give theatricals for the benefit of the club on the nights of the 16th and 17th of November. Two e muittees of ladies were appointed to select the pieces to be rendered and make further arrangements for the proposed entertainments.

THE MONDAY NIGHT DEMONSTRATION .-The various democratic organizations of the Cay will meet to sight and to-merrow night for the jurpose of making arrangements for the grand toroblight procession and political mosting on Monday night next. As this is the last demonstration before the election a brilliant Will address the citizens on the cocasion.

TRAINS TO BE WITHDRAWN.-It is under stood that the traics for Richmond on the Al Exandria and Frederickburg Railroad, in con-Equence of the resumption of the route from Washington, Shepherds and Quantico, by river, will be withdrawn in a short time, leaving the Virginia Midiand Railroad in ful possession o: he Richmond travel by land.

WHO IS AUTHORIZED TO RECEIVE THE CATE TO-DAY'S TELEGRAPH NEWS ITATION TAX-LETEER FROM ATTORNEY GEN ERAL FIELD. -In yesterday's Gazatte the law and the facts ragarding not only the right but the duty of the Clerk of the Corporation Court to receive the capitation tax were given, and at the same time it was stated that Attorney Gent eral Field had given his opinion on the sulj of. The following is his letter to Col. Maryo:

"Commonwealth of Virolkia, Attorner-General's Office Richmond Va., October 26, 1830.

Colonel Morton Marge:
Dear Sir—The telegrams I sent you this morning were based upon the opinions of Auditor Taylor, in which I concurred, upon the law previous to the statute approved April 1st, 1879 (see acts of 1878-79, page 323, section 26.) law previous to the statute approved April 1st, 1879 (see acts of 1878-79, page 323, section 25.) My attention was never called to this last statuto, and being engaged with important matters of the State connected with the sale of the A., M. and O. R. R. when your two first dispatched were received. I replied, giving the opinion of Auditor Taylor, not supposing any change had been made in the statute, and you failing to call my attention to any change. The reception of you last dispatch, though I was very much eccupied, caused me to look over the stautes since the publication of the Code of 1873, and I found the act approved April 1,

1873, and I found the act approved April 1, 1879, which, in my opinion, materially changes 1879, which, in my opinion, materially changes the law in relation to the duties of the clerk as to the collection of the definquent personal tax. Under the 26th section of that act, page 326, Acts of 1878 79, I think the clerk is clearly authorized and required to receive the tax when tendered and to make the entry thereof in the book required to be kept for that purpose. The clerk can only receive what is voluntarily tendered. Under the 19th section of said act the Auditor is required within sixty days or as soon as pracis required within sixty days or as soon as practicable to place in the hands of some sheriff, sergeant, constable or collector a certified copy of the lists returned, and said sheriff, sergeant, con-stable or collector, if payment is not made, can proceed to collector, it payment is to made, can proceed to collect by distress, &c.

'If you had called my attention to the statute of 1879 you would have saved me very much labor, at a time when I cannot very well afford to quit important matters to trace the changes in the statutes. If voters would pay their tax within the time required by law, the inconveniences and dangers to the suffragan, to which you refer, would not ensua.
'Hoping your people will all be qualified to vote on the 21 instant, I am very truly yours,

"JAMES G. FIELD."

THE LATE MR. LATHAM .- A number of organizations of which the late Mr. Latham was a member met last night and decided to attend the funeral of their deceased brother to-morrow afternoon, and other organizations will meet tonight for the same purpose as will be seen by advertisements.

A public meeting of the citizens will be held o night in the Chamber of the Common Counoil to express the cense of less experienced by he commucity in the death of ex Mayor laibam.

The funeral of Mr. Latham to-morrow after noon at two o'clock, from Armory Hall, will probably be the largest that ever took place in Alexandria.

DANCING .- Professor Mueller is taking Alexandria by storm. Almost all our influential citizens send their children, and a large number of the young gentlemen have joined his classes, l'o accommodate all who wish to come he will receive a few more now pupils next Friday and Moudas-at 31 p. m. for ladies and children and at 8 p. m. for gentlemen. His new waltzes are said to be perfectly splendid, and his method the best and easiest ever seen in Alexandria and Washington, His class at the Masonio Comple, in Washington, is almost full.

DEATH OF A FORMER ALEXANDRIAN .-James Whaley, who was found dead in Washington yesterday morolog, was a native of this city, and was for a long time connected with the chaching business. He was a brother of Mr. Bushrod Whaley, who ran a stage line a comber of years ago between Alexandria and Middleburg.
